Sign Up For Next ABT Meet December 6

The next meet on our schedule will be hosted by Flint River Rapids on Saturday, December 6 at Albany State University. This meet will be appropriate for all our members—and a good opportunity for first-time competitors to get their first taste of competition.

Let Tim DeMott know if you are interested in entering this meet. More details will be provided when they become available.

Annual Season Break

There will be practices on Thanksgiving Day, November 27 and Friday, November 28.

We will also be taking our annual holiday season break from December 22 through January 2. (Senior and Masters Teams, your optional training schedule during these dates will be published later) Normal practice times will resume on January 5.

National Championships Start December 4 in Atlanta

Georgia Tech will host the 2008 Short Course National Championships December 4-7. See a seating chart and purchase tickets online at www.crc.gatech.edu.

Turn In Your Cookbook Recipes

Recipe cards for our cookbook fund-raiser are due as soon as you can get them in. Just send them to practice with our swimmer and give them to a coach. Each ABT family is asked to submit 10 cards. Extra cards are available if you need them. Cookbooks will be published and available after the New Year.
